From the Chaplain

A GIFT THAT KEEPS ON GIVING

I know a family who still had their Christmas tree in the living room when I visited them in early February.

Another family left their candles in the windows the whole year. It's not that these folks are lazy or forgetful. I suspect that they just wanted to hold onto a "bit" of Christmas a little longer.

The Christmas tree, wreaths, candles in the windows and many other decorations all serve to remind us of the transformation that occurs at Christmas. At least for a while we are more loving and joyful, warmer and smiling more than usual, more generous to family, friends and charities. It's a wonderful time of year...a time we wish would last longer.

The message of Christmas is just that! In the birth of the child at Bethlehem, God has given of himself, which frees us to give of ourselves in love to those near as well as the hurting, needy, forgotten persons of our world... all year long.

*Peace and joy to you and your loved ones
